

You're Gone

Like a scientist
pours over an epiphany
Leaning over my desk
Writing furiously

Not this time
Not gonna take it anymore
When the walls come down
I'll be gone out that door

From up close it can seem so hard
Just take a step back, it isn't who you are

Chorus

You're Gone
I'll see you later
It's been, So Long
Since I felt free
You're Gone
yeah, you're gone
away from me
Now I feel
So much better than I did before indecision and letters

I will not think of something
My conscience will not bleed
Like a solar powered engine
Meet self-empowered me

Taking my time
Making ends meet
A guarded heart
Will not be happy

From this close, life can seem so hard
Take in a breath, I'm taking this one far

Chorus
